Company information:

Wahl like to make an impact at Salon International and 2010 will be no exception as they celebrate exhibiting at this event for 21 years. The stand will be energetic and buzzing with lots to see and do as the Artistic Team embrace a Pulp Fiction theme which promises to entertain and surprise the audience. From exciting product launches of the fantastic new Professional Lithium Ion Clipper and Trimmer to the resident Method of Movement breakdancers, there will be something for everyone. This year will see the addition of some of the country's most talented female street dancers from Fresh Vibe to rival Method of Movement and give them a run for their money!

Simon Shaw, European Artistic Director, WAHL

"It's important for us to have a presence at Salon International because it is the hub of the UK hair industry. It's the one time of year when everything comes together and gives us the chance to interact with the stylists and barbers across the UK, while giving them the chance to see what's new, what's out there and what they can do to further their skills, businesses and careers."
